

Welfare Aid Issue Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld unanimously today California regulations that bar welfare aid to needy children because their fathers work full-time.

The court, without explanation, refused to hear two Santa Clara men who claimed their full-time jobs did not produce income to feed their children adequately or clothe them properly.

Were the fathers not working, the families would have qualified for welfare aid. The appeal called the California regulations "don't work rules" as a result.

The cut-off level in California for working parents is 152 hours a month. A family otherwise qualified for welfare cannot get any if one of the parents works more than that number of hours.

In other actions today, the court:

—Agreed to review the 1968 federal law designed to control loan sharking.

—Turned down the state of Pennsylvania, in its effort to reverse an order which feed a convicted robber who was identified by the victim through photographs and a one-way mirror.

—Refused a hearing, to a New Orleans black convicted of draft evasion, into claims Negroes were systematically excluded from his draft board and its members violated the law by living outside the area.

ed in New York in 1952 by E. Crosby Monroe.

In creating the trust, Monroe declared that net income of the trust was to be used exclusively "for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes, which may include the rehabilitation, physically, mentally and spiritually, of persons in need thereof; the provision of necessities for needy persons; the maintenance of a school for instruction in religious subjects; and the carrying on of farming, processing of farm products, and marketing of such products."

In August 1968, Shiloh moved its headquarters and most of its members to Sulphur Springs, where it bought and now occupies 118 acres that is the site of a dormitory and other buildings formerly owned by John Brown University.

Shiloh has 20 to 25 members in Arkansas and a few others in New York. The membership, evidently includes some families with children, the Supreme Court said.

The Rev. James Janisch is trustee of the trust and has sole discretion over the use of the net income of the trust. He estimated the property of the trust as being worth more than $150,000, including real estate, stocks and bonds.

All members of Shiloh receive free room and board and are paid an allowance every four weeks, with the amounts varying from $3 for preschool children, to $15 for high school pupils, to $28.80 for adults.

The record reflected no denomination tie for the Rev. Mr. Janisch or the religious activities of Shiloh Trust.

The trust had argued that it should be exempted from its payments to four persons who had operated a Sulphur Springs service station owned by the trust since all members of Shiloh receive their allowances whether they work or not.

The Supreme Court, in the opinion written by Associate Justice George Rose Smith, noted that only one adult, almost 100 years old, was mentioned as a nonworking member of Shiloh. The court said the Board of Review could reasonably conclude that members are normally required to perform services for the organization, even though allowances were paid in unusual circumstances to members who did not work.

"Here we have a self-sufficient colony whose members are earning a livelihood by carrying on business activities in competition with others," the Supreme Court said, noting that the trust could not carry on its activities indefinitely without income such as that that resulted from the operation of the service station.

The United States produces about 110 bushels of apples annually.

"Leisure has not always been a problem," said Paul Henley of the City Parks and Recreation Committee in a talk at Hope Rotary, Friday, November 13, at Town & Country. He outlined problems created by too much leisure and said the future 20 hour work-week was not a dream but a threat that must be coped with by the individual, with assistance of such groups as the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Dr. Sam Strong arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

At the conclusion of the talk, Mr. Henley showed plans for the proposed new community center. President C. R. (Dick) Moore welcomed the members and 3 visiting Rotarians, Tom Callan, Nashville; Mason Andres, Texarkana; and Bruce McRae of Denver.

Bumpers to Meet With Dept. Heads

CHARLESTON, Ark. (AP) — Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers said here Sunday that he planned to meet with several state department heads this afternoon at the state Capitol.

Bumpers, who returned from a five-day vacation in Puerto Rico Saturday, said that he will work through Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's office to set up the appointments.

He said he hoped to meet with Col. Ralph Scott, director of the State Police, and Revenue Commissioner A. B. (Bud) Hervey Jr., this afternoon and Robert Sarver, correction commissioner, Tuesday.

Dr. Max Milam, head of the administration department, agreed to remain on his job "indefinitely" before Bumpers took his vacation.

Accompanying Bumpers were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Schaeffer Jr., and Sen. and Mrs. Ben Allen.

Bumpers spent Sunday afternoon preparing a speech he planned to deliver to the Arkansas Municipal League at noon today in Hot Springs.

Cambodian troops continued to hold a handful of key strong points along the northern front but made no major effort to re-establish government control along the 32-mile stretch of Highway 7 between Kompong Cham, 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and Skoun.

Southeast of Phnom Penh, South Vietnamese Marines and Rangers aboard river assault boats moved along the east bank of the Mekong river to within 20 miles of the capital, shoring up that sector of the city's outer defenses. The Marines clashed with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces over the weekend, claiming 44 killed and 34 captured. Seven South Vietnamese were killed and 18 wounded, a spokesman said.

Smith, and the Senate lineup will become 58 Democrats, 42 Republicans.

Stevenson takes over at once because he was elected to the unexpired term of the late Everett M. Dirksen.

When the 92nd Congress convenes Jan. 4, the Senate lineup is expected to be 55 Democratic votes, 45 Republican.

That prospect itself may make for trouble in the lame-duck session: on some closely contested issues, Republicans might prefer a delay, to take advantage of their gains.

Actually, 10 members of the current Senate and 51 in the House are lame-duck legislators; their service ends with this session. Their presence might be troublesome as well, since they might not go along with the party discipline.

There are seven major appropriations bills awaiting action. They cover the fiscal year that began last July 1; Congress could, by resolution, continue the spending authority of the agencies involved into the new year.

With President Nixon claiming an ideological majority in the new Senate, he might prefer that some spending decisions be put off until next year.

Appropriations for education and housing, which have led to Nixon vetoes, are among those awaiting action.

So is the giant defense money bill.

A bill providing a 10 per cent increase in Social Security benefits is likely to be the platform for a showdown over Nixon's controversial welfare reform program.

The first business before the House is debate on a controversial trade measure setting quotas on imports of textiles and shoes, and offering a tax break designed to promote U.S. exports.

That, too, will come before the Senate as a rider to the Social Security bill.

Prospects for two constitutional amendments which already have passed the House appear bleak in the Senate.

One is the equal rights for women amendment, which isn't being supported by feminist groups and probably will be dropped. The other is the amendment for direct election of the President.

Suspect Held in Slaying of 5 in Family

SUNBURG, Minn. (AP) — Authorities were holding a man for questioning today in the weekend shotgun slayings of a farm couple and their three children.

Ronald Schneider, Kandiyohi County attorney, said a grand jury would be called shortly to bring charges against the man.

Sheriff Harvey M. Spaulding earlier had described the killings as "a complete mystery," saying, "We can't even establish a motive at this time."

The body of James Fremberg, 40, was found in the barn about 10 a.m. Sunday by Delbert Peterson of Sunburg, who had stopped at the farm to pick up milk for a creamery.

The milking machine was running, indicating Fremberg had begun his morning chores when he was shot at close range.

About 150 yards away, in the dining room of the two-story farmhouse, authorities found the body of Fremberg's wife, Gloria, 29.

A close-range shotgun blast had decapitated her.

A quart of milk and cereal bowls were on the table for a meal the family never ate. Toys were strewn about the downstairs rooms.

In one of two upstairs bedrooms, authorities found the pajama-clad bodies of the three children. David, 7, and Douglas, 4, were in one bed and their sister Patricia, 8, in another.

There were no signs of a struggle and authorities had no clues, the sheriff said.

No murder weapon was found and the slayer or slayers had taken away the expended shell casings, apparently from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Good Reaction to Speech, Says Scott

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Col. Ralph Scott, the director of the State Police, said Sunday that he has received only good reaction to a speech in which he criticized procedures used in lower courts in some criminal cases.

Scott said he knew there was adverse reaction to his criticism, however, he said he had only received good comments. Scott said that several judges and lawyers had written him letters complimenting the speech.

In the speech, he said that some lower court judges had engaged in resetting cases until prosecution witnesses could not appear and that "postponements, trivial motions and perjured testimony are not unusual."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If ever an entertainment form begged for expert adaptation to television, it has been the circus. As evidenced by Sunday night's "The Klowns" on ABC, it now has been provided.

The team of Gary Smith and Dwight Hemion—who turn out the weekly "Music Hall" shows on NBC—created "The Klowns," a bright, merry hour of variety that included the usual tiger tamer, the elephants and the aerial acts. They used them, however, as production numbers to pace an hour that recognized the need for intimacy with the limitations of television's small screens.

Sammy Davis Jr. served as host and all-purpose star. He sang and danced with Juliet Prowse. He played straight man to Jerry Lewis, completely disguised in clown make-up and confining his activities to pantomime. The Smothers Brothers had a brief and funny moment as acrobats; Charlie Callas' weird comedy as a near-sighted trapeze performer was genuinely funny.

Now if only Smith and Hemion will start thinking about doing something fresh with ice shows.

ABC's mid-January overhaul of its schedule has cancellations and shifts that will affect every night except Tuesday. The six cancelled programs—"The Young Rebels," "Matt Lincoln," "Barefoot in the Park," "The Immortal," "The Most Deadly Game" and "The Silent Force"—were quite simply shows that never moved off the bottom of the Nielsen ratings lists.

In the course of a drastic reshuffling, "Dan August" with Burt Reynolds will be given a second chance. Currently competing on Wednesday nights against CBS and NBC programs in a similar action category, it will move to Thursdays—against NBC's Dean Martin and CBS's feature movies. "The Young Lawyers," currently in hopeless competition against CBS's "Gunsmoke" and NBC's "Laugh-In," goes into the "Dan August" spot, presumably a good break for the series.

Biggest surprise is the change of status for "The Tom Jones Show." In its second season as a weekly variety hour, it will become a monthly special with no fixed time period. There is evidence that Jones, the Welsh singer, is a smash hit on the club and concert circuit but has never really cut it with the TV audiences.

New shows will be a comedy starring Pearl Bailey; "The Smith Family" with Henry Fonda; and a comedy western, "Alias Smith and Jones." Another half-hour program, not yet announced, will replace "The Silent Force." Several prime-time spots are being returned to local stations for programming.

Polls Agree on a Last Minute Shift

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Most of those who conducted political polls during the November general election campaign agree that a last-minute shift of undecided voters was responsible for throwing the pollsters off.

Most of the polls showed Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers winning over Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, but apparently no survey measured the full extent of Bumpers' landslide victory. The polls also showed that the Constitution of 1970 faring much better than it did.

The poll that apparently came closest to predicting the outcome of the governor's race was conducted by Dr. Robert Johnston, a political science professor at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. Johnston's poll, conducted with the help of his students, showed Bumpers receiving about 60 per cent of the vote.

The actual results of the gubernatorial race, according to unofficial returns, gave Bumpers 62.3 per cent of the vote, Rockefeller 32.1 per cent and Walter Carruth of Lexa, the American party candidate, 5.6 per cent.

Johnston said his poll was conducted to get a reading on the proposed constitution. He failed, however, in that area—giving the document 59 per cent of the vote. The charter received only 43 per cent.

At least three pollsters were hired by candidates or their advertising agencies. The three were Midwest Opinion Surveys, Area Market Research and Jim Ranchino, a political scientist at Ouachita Baptist University.

Midwest Opinion Surveys is headed by Eugene Newsom, who conducted polls for former Gov. Orval E. Faubus while Faubus was governor. Area Market Research is a division of Cranford-Johnson Inc. of Little Rock.

Ranchino surveyed for the Bumpers campaign, Midwest polled for Rockefeller and Area Market Research declined to identify its client. Bumpers' aides, however, quoted Area Market Research figures during the campaign.

Ike Murry, a Little Rock lawyer and former attorney general, also conducted a survey as he has done for more than 10 years. Murry, however, says he conducts his survey for his own amusement.

All of the polls projected Bumpers to be the winner. A spokesman for Area Market Research said that firm's final projection for Bumpers was between 54 and 57 per cent. Ranchino projected Bumpers the winner in his final poll by at least 56 per cent. Murry gave Bumpers 55.5 per cent.

Newsom would not reveal his poll, but said he had projected Bumpers would win.

Murry said his first poll, taken shortly after Bumpers' victory over Faubus showed Bumpers with 69.3 per cent of the vote. A second poll showed Bumpers with 65.5 per cent.

None of the pollsters expressed surprise over failing to predict the magnitude of Bumpers' victory. Most said there was a lot of fluctuation among undecided voters during the campaign.

Ranchino said that he had 50 of the persons he had polled in his first survey telephoned staff would probably take over some of the party's operation.

He said the staff "has a lack of understanding of the party and party organization."

Ham, who said he hired and trained most of Rockefeller's staff, said the staff is "self-serving" and is more interested in administrative appointments than the party.

Many of the staff "don't call themselves Republicans at all," he said.

He also said he did not favor Rockefeller seeking re-election.

One critic of Rockefeller's bid for re-election said the governor was attempting to build the party from the top down. Ham said he agreed.

If he is chairman, Ham says he will strengthen the party from the base and will work to get more Republicans in county and local offices. He said he would put more emphasis on the county organization.

As chairman, Ham said he would adhere to state and national party rules and would not espouse his own opinions.

again in his second survey and found that 35 per cent of them had either switched to the other major candidate or else had become undecided.

Ranchino took three polls in the governor's race during the general election campaign. The polls were taken weekly in the last three weeks of the campaign.

The first poll, Ranchino said, 27 precincts that had voted heavily for Rockefeller in previous elections were sampled. The survey showed Bumpers was leading 54 per cent to 30 per cent in those precincts. Carruth had 2 per cent.

"I wrote then that the election was all over," Ranchino said.

The last two polls were random samples of the whole state. The second one showed that Bumpers was losing ground at that point. The Democratic nominee had slightly better than 51 per cent with 30 per cent for Rockefeller. The undecided vote had grown that week.

The final poll, a week before the election, showed Bumpers moving again with at least 56 per cent of the vote to Rockefeller's 35 per cent and Carruth's 2 per cent.

Both Murry and Ranchino agree that another factor in throwing the pollsters off was Bumpers' television program during the closing days of the campaign on which Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., delivered a personal appeal for support for Bumpers.

"That Mills thing may have been a big factor," Ranchino said. "That's only a theory, but I've heard a lot of people mention that."

Apparently none of the polls came close to predicting the fate on the new constitution.

L. Craig Rains of Area Market Research, however, did predict the proposed charter would fail. Although the final poll showed the document leading 45 to 38 per cent, Rains said he predicted that all of the undecided vote would go to the opposition because of lack of movement on the favorable side throughout the campaign. Throughout the campaign, the document gained only 1 per cent in the favorable column, Rains said.

Ranchino said he had never seen an election with so much indecision among voters. "It was a strange one, it really was," he said.

Asian Bases Probed for Shady Deals

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said four members of the rackety committee, which he chairs, are investigating U. S. bases in Southeast Asia for shady business deals.

He said the findings will be revealed in a committee hearing early next year, probably in February or March.

Asked if the probe involved slot machines at U.S. military bases, McClellan said, "We're checking on many things, that and exchanges and kickbacks."

Previous hearings included allegations of kickbacks and collusion at clubs on military bases.

McClellan made the statements on Little Rock television station KTHV's "Face the State" program.

The Senator said that under the wiretap section of the 1969 organized crime bill, 189 wiretaps had been authorized by the courts and only one request for wiretap authorization, by the Justice Department, had been rejected.

The wiretaps have led to 622 arrests since Jan. 20, 1969, he said. He said that 497 indictments had been obtained so far against those who had been arrested by officers utilizing wiretaps.

Razorbacks Were More Than Ready

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — After spending the week preparing for Chuck Hixson, Arkansas' defense was more than ready for Gary Carter.

Hixson, SMU's one-time NCAA passing leader, suffered a knee injury a couple of weeks ago and did not even suit out Saturday against the Razorbacks.

Arkansas intercepted nine passes, eight of Carter — an inexperienced junior. The nine interceptions lies a Southwest Conference record set by Rice in 1941 and equaled by Baylor in 1949.

The interceptions, Bill McClard's record-breaking 60-yard field goal and Bill Montgomery's passing resulted in a 36-3 Arkansas victory.

"Knowing Hixson might play helped us to get ready," said Coach Frank Broyles. "They (the defenders) played the ball beautifully. Nine interceptions is fantastic anytime, anywhere."

David Hogue, who started in place of injured Jerry Moore, intercepted three passes and fast - improving Corky Cordell picked off two.

The Razorbacks moved the ball well on their first three possessions but came away with only three points.

"That was disappointing," Broyles said. "When you're a balanced offensive team with running and passing you have to rely on your running game inside the 20 because the defense is crowding you. You have to give SMU credit, but you have to be discouraged about the offense."

For all practical purposes, Arkansas put away the victory — its eighth straight — late in the second quarter.

The Razorbacks were leading 12-0 when McClard's 60-yard field goal hit the cross bar and bounced over with less than three minutes left. The three-point, McClard's third of the game and 18th of his career at Arkansas, broke the NCAA record of 59 yards set last year by Mississippi's Cloyce Hinton.

Seconds later, Hogue intercepted a Gary Hammond pass and returned it to the SMU 17. Six plays later, Montgomery fired four yards to Chuck Dicus who did an excellent job of coming down in bounds. The touchdown made it 22-0 at the half.

Montgomery scored once, threw two scoring passes and completed 19 of 29 attempts for 294 yards. Early in the third period he turned a fumble into a 29-yard scoring pass to Bobby Nichols.

"Montgomery had one of his finest days," Broyles said. "He probably had more outstanding plays than in any game he's had in a long time."

Montgomery narrowly missed on several bombs and threw extremely well whether against the wind or with it at his back. Next week the Razorbacks travel to Lubbock to meet Texas Tech — the final hurdle before the Dec. 5 showdown with Texas.

Tech is still in the Southwest Conference race and Broyles says the Raiders have the strongest running game Arkansas has faced since Oklahoma State.

A-State Has Done It Again in Southland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas State did it again. For the third consecutive year, the Indians are the football champions of the Southland Conference.

The top-ranked small college team whipped UT-Arlington 27-7 Saturday for Arkansas State's 12th consecutive league victory.

The Indians are a probable choice for the Pecan Bowl in Arlington, Tex., in December. Arkansas State rolled up a 20-0 halftime lead before coasting over UT-Arlington which is 0-9

Old George Blanda Does It Again

By DICK JOYCE
Associated Press Sports Writer
George Blanda did it again ... and the injury-riddled New York Jets did almost the impossible.

In a Sunday marked by upsets and near upsets in the National Football League, the 43-year-old Blanda, Oakland's backup quarterback, led the Raiders to victory for the third straight week. This time he came off the bench with less than four minutes to play, replacing Daryle Lamoniaca, and rallied the Raiders to a 24-19 triumph over the Denver Broncos.

Meanwhile, the Jets snapped a six-game losing streak by routing heavily favored Los Angeles 31-20. Quarterback Al Woodall tossed three touchdown passes as the Rams suffered their first loss to a former American Football League club. The Jets built up a 31-13 lead before Los Angeles scored in the final minutes.

In other upsets, the Buffalo Bills held the Baltimore Colts to a 17-17 deadlock; the Philadelphia Eagles played to a 13-13 tie with the Atlanta Falcons and the Cincinnati Bengals edged the Cleveland Browns 14-10.

The New York Giants had to rally to overcome the Washington Redskins 35-33, the Green Bay Packers nipped the Chicago Bears 20-19, and the San Diego Chargers got by the Boston Patriots 16-14.

In other games, the Minnesota Vikings virtually wrapped up the National Conference's Central Division title with a 24-20 victory over the Detroit Lions; the Kansas City Chiefs clubbed the Pittsburgh Steelers 31-14; the Miami Dolphins upended the New Orleans Saints 21-10 and the San Francisco 49ers belted the Houston Oilers 30-20.

The Dallas Cowboys play host to the St. Louis Cardinals in the nationally televised Monday night game.

Blanda, whose field goals meant the difference the past two Sundays, hit Fred Biletnikoff with a 20-yard scoring pass to bring the Raiders from a 19-17 deficit and keep them atop the American Conference West. Blanda, who booted a first-half field goal, set up the TD with passes of 27 yards to Rod Sherman and 35 yards to Warren Wells.

Rookie Grant Guthrie's 36-yard field goal with 1:09 to play earned Buffalo its tie with Baltimore, the AFC East leader. Playing without the injured O. J. Simpson, the Bills got 130 yards rushing from Wayne Patrick and Greg Jones and two TD aeriels from quarterback Dennis Shaw.

Defensive back Steve Preece picked up a loose fumble and raced 21 yards for Philadelphia's tying touchdown in the last period. Kenny Vineyards had kicked two field goals and Bob Berry engineered a 77-yard scoring drive to give Atlanta a 3-6 advantage.

Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown called his club's victory over his old team, Cleveland, the greatest of his career. Bengal quarterback Virgil Carter helped make it possible and avenge an early-season Cleveland setback. Carter connected on 10 of 17 passes for 123 yards and one touchdown and rushed for 110 yards in nine carries.

The Giants, trailing 33-14 in for the season. Arkansas State is 9-0.

Abilene Christian, 8-2, tripped Trinity, 5-4, 20-15 without the services of ace quarterback Jim Lindsey. Don Harr's 26-yard touchdown run was the difference for the Wildcats.

Lamar Tech rallied but could not catch New Mexico State in a 69-37 defeat. New Mexico State was ahead 48-7 at halftime before the Cardinals rallied to make it 48-37.

Hogs Going After Red Raiders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas tries to oust those pesky Texas Tech Red Raiders from the Southwest Conference football title chase Saturday and that sometimes can be a large order in Lubbock as the Razorbacks have discovered in the past.

In 1966, Texas Tech stunned Arkansas 21-16 in Lubbock ruining all sorts of Razorback championship dreams.

Tech is 7-2 for the season and still looms as an outside possibility in the Cotton Bowl picture. Tech is 5-1 in SWC play. A win over Arkansas and a Texas A&M or Arkansas victor over Texas could throw the SWC race into a tie. And Tech would get to go to the Cotton Bowl.

Arkansas and Texas, both 5-0 in the SWC chase, are still oddson favorites to collide Dec. 5 in Austin for the SWC championship. Events over the weekend didn't hurt that possibility.

While Tech was struggling to defeat Baylor 7-3, Arkansas battered Southern Methodist 36-3 while second-ranked Texas enhanced its national image with a 58-0 stomping of Texas Christian. In the only other SWC game, Rice won 18-17 over Texas A&M for outgoing coach Bo Hagan.

Bill McClard kicked an NCAA record 60 - yard field goal against SMU. The ball hit the crossbar and popped over. The kick was aided by a 20 mile-an-hour wind.

Razorback coach Frank Broyles said "I didn't think he could make it. It was a great kick."

Broyles said he debated whether to let McClard try it. "I'm pleased with him but they wanted to punt," McClard said. "Coach Mervin Johnson finally said 'go ahead.'"

Texas, criticized for its listless play in a 21-14 victory over Baylor last week, poured it on TCU.

Texas coach Darrell Royal said "I hated to see those points climb up like they did." Royal explained "I had them (the first team) in there when we led 30-0 in the third quarter ... TCU would have the wind in the fourth quarter and nowadays 30 points can go like zap. It's awfully embarrassing when you take your first team out of a game then have to put them back in. It makes you feel ridiculous."

Fullback Steve Worster of Texas pulled a rib cartilage and played only about eight minutes.

However, he declared he will be ready Thanksgiving Day against Texas A&M.

"All I know is I'll be playing against the Aggies," he said.

In other games this week, Baylor is at SMU and TCU is at Rice.

The third quarter, bounced back for three TDs in the final period, capped by Ron Johnson's nine-yard run with one minute remaining. A 57-yard scoring pass from Fran Tarkenton to Tucker Frederickson and another Johnson TD run put the Giants one-half game behind St. Louis in the NFC East.

Veteran Bart Starr raced three yards with three seconds left to pull out Green Bay's triumph over Chicago, culminating an 80-yard drive.

San Diego dealt Boston its eighth straight loss behind John Hadl's second-half TD passes to Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison. The Chargers extended their unbeaten string to five games.

Clint Jones' three touchdowns and Gary Cuozzo's passing paced Minnesota past Detroit, which had led 20-10 in the third period. Jones swept over for the winner from the five with 1:23 to play, boosting the Vikings' record to 8-1.

Kansas City romped past Pittsburgh on Len Dawson's three touchdown passes. He hit 19 of 24 passes for 257 yards while the Chiefs rolled up 424 total yards on offense. However, Pittsburgh remained tied for first with Cleveland in the AFC Central Division.

Bog Griesse helped Miami snap a three-game losing streak by clicking on 15 of 19 passes for 231 yards against New Orleans. He hit seven-for-seven in the third quarter to wipe out a 10-7 deficit.

Nebraska Accepts Orange Bid

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska has become the first major college football team to accept a bowl bid and now Coach Bob Devaney is shooting for first in the rankings, as well.

"I've never said this before, but at the present time I think we have as much right to be No. 1 as anybody," Devaney said Saturday after the fourth-ranked Cornhuskers blasted No. 20 Kansas State 51-13. Sunday night, Nebraska accepted a bid to the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

"It was the only offer we got," Devaney said. "We did not turn down offers from any other bowls." Representatives from the Orange, Cotton and Sugar Bowls watched Saturday's game, but Devaney said he advised his team, now 9-0-1, to accept the Orange Bowl offer.

"I thought having this thing on our minds about a bowl would have a bad effect on preparing for this week's game against Oklahoma," he said. "The players were enthusiastic about the Orange Bowl and I thought it was best to get it settled."

In Saturday's game, Joe Ornduna scored four touchdowns and Nebraska's pass rush harassed K-State's heralded Lynn Diekey into seven interceptions. Devaney called it "one of our finest wins" and Coach Vince Gibson of the losers said Nebraska "might be the best team in America."

Nebraska was not alone among challengers for the No. 1 throne in the wake of top-rated Notre Dame's 10-7 scare against Georgia Tech.

Runner-up Texas, ousted from the top spot last week, overpowered Texas Christian 58-0 as Longhorn fans chanted, "We're No. 1, we're No. 1."

"We took a bad whipping," said TCU Coach Fred Taylor. "They have a great team."

"We just had something to prove," said defensive end Bill Atessis of the winners, referring to the previous week's listless 21-14 victory over Baylor.

With fullback Steve Worster nursing an injury for most of the game, Jim Bertelsen took up much of the slack, gaining 92 of the Longhorns' 301 yards on the ground and scoring three times.

Notre Dame got a vote to retain its No. 1 ranking from Coach Bud Carson of Georgia Tech. "I've been saying all week that Notre Dame was No. 1 and nothing happened to change my mind," said Carson, who added, "I've never been more proud of a defensive effort in my 27 years in football."

The Fighting Irish needed Denny Allan's two-yard plunge with 6½ minutes left, the seventh play of an 80-yard drive, to nose out the fired-up Yellow Jackets, who are still in line for a bowl bid themselves.

Third-ranked Ohio State and fifth-rated Michigan continued unbeaten toward their showdown in Columbus next Saturday ... but with different type triumphs. The Buckeyes needed Fred Schram's 30-yard field goal with two minutes remaining to edge Purdue 10-7 in icy rain and snow while the Wolverines trampled Iowa 55-0 as Don Moorhead set a career total offense record and Billy Taylor gained 189 yards and scored twice.

It will be the first time in the Big Ten's 75-year history that two unbeaten teams have met in the last game of the season.

President Nixon got back into the football swing of things, telephoning both the Ohio State and Purdue dressing rooms after their regionally televised clash. "He just offered his congratulations," reported Coach Woody Hayes of the Buckeyes.

Michigan's Bo Schembechler isn't concerned with rankings ... yet. "Saturday should tell where Michigan should be in the polls," he said.

Elsewhere, sixth-ranked Stanford was stunned 31-14 by No. 13 Air Force as Bob Parker threw three touchdown passes to Ernie Jennings. It was "the biggest game and victory in Air Force Academy football history," said Coach Ben Martin of the Falcons, who are in line for a major bowl appearance.

Bill McClard booted the longest field goal in major college history, a 60-yarder, and Bill Montgomery passed for 294 yards as seventh-rated Arkansas intercepted eight of sub quarterback Gary Carter's passes and trounced Southern Methodist 36-3.

Georgia stunned eighth-ranked Auburn 31-17 with a pair of last-period touchdowns and No. 9 Louisiana State breezed past Mississippi State 38-7. Tennessee, No. 10, was idle.

Arizona State, ranked 11th, started slowly but whipped Utah 37-14. Shug Chumbler, replacing the injured Archie Manning, hurled four touchdown passes as No. 12 Mississippi stormed past Chattanooga 44-7. San Diego State, No. 14, crushed Santa Barbara 64-7.

No. 15 Dartmouth clinched a tie for the Ivy League crown with a 24-0 triumph over Cornell. Toledo, rated 16th, overcame an early deficit and hammered Dayton 31-7. Sonny Sixkiller and Greg Collins threw three scoring passes apiece to lead Washington to a shocking 61-20 rout of 17th-ranked UCLA.

Southern California, No. 18, was idle and No. 20 Oregon needed Bobby Moore's 59-yard touchdown gallop and two-point conversion catch with four minutes left to tie oft-beaten Army 22-14.

Louisville captured the Missouri Valley title and a berth in the Pasadena Bowl by defeating Cincinnati 28-14.

Arkansas Tech Clinches a Tie in AIC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas Tech clinched at least a tie for the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championship Saturday night with a 28-6 victory over Harding.

The Wonder Boys, sporting a 5-1 conference record, now must wait on the outcome of Saturday's game between second-place Ouachita and Henderson. Tech is finished with its AIC slate and hosts Arkansas A&N Saturday.

In other AIC games, Ouachita defeated Southern State 27-7, Henderson edged State College 17-10, Texas Lutheran defeated Arkansas A&M 21-14 and Arkansas A&N breezed by Bishop College 30-10.

Ouachita spotted Southern State a 7-0 lead and then broke loose in the final 20 minutes of the game to put down the Riders.

Tailback Johnny Baker, fullback James Reynolds and quarterback Barry Bennett provided the spark to push Ouachita to victory. Bennett drilled a 35-yard touchdown pass to David Dumond, Baker scored on a 31-yard gallop and Reynolds chalked up two TDs on runs of two and 29 yards.

A&M led favored Texas Lutheran 14-7, on touchdown runs of 71 and one yards by fullback James Black, but saw the visitors tie the score in the third quarter and then pull ahead with a 72-yard touchdown drive in the fourth quarter.

Henderson scored two touchdowns and a field goal on a muddy field at Conway. Larry Miller got SCA's only touchdown on a 46-yard run.

AM&N's defense had a hand in all of the Golden Lions' scoring against Bishop. A fumble recovery and a 67-yard kick punt return provided the opportunity for fullback Charles Harkless to get two touchdowns on short runs.

Aussies Win World Cup Golf Meet

By R. GREGORY NOKES

BUENOS AIRES (AP) —

Australians Bruce Devlin and David Graham took the World Cup golf championship home to Australia today, but left behind the individual scoring title in Argentina, much to the delight of the Argentines.

That title was snatched away at the last minute by home favorite Roberto de Vicenzo, who staged a late charge before thousands of cheering fans to overcome a two-stroke disadvantage in the final 18 holes.

It was a contest between the old master and the young upstart from Australia. De Vicenzo, 47, has played in all 18 World Cups and this tournament was dedicated to him.

He had helped win the team trophy for Argentina in 1953, and won the individual title in 1962.

Graham, on the other hand, failed only two weeks ago to qualify for the lucrative Professional Golfers Association tour in the United States. He is 24, a relative newcomer to pro golf, and was playing in his first World Cup.

Actually, Graham was the second choice behind Bruce Crampton who had a previous commitment. In the recent PGA school at Tucson, Ariz., Graham failed to qualify for the tour by one stroke.

De Vicenzo led during the first 36 holes of the tournament, fell two strokes behind Graham on the third round Saturday, and then fired a two-under-par 70 in Sunday's final round, while Graham went over 70 for the first time in the tournament with a 73.

De Vicenzo finished with a 269, 19 under par, while Graham shot 270. Next were Devlin, at 275, 14 under, and Dave Stockton of the United States and Allan Henning of South Africa, tied at 269, nine under.

De Vicenzo's score was a record low, breaking the mark of 272, held jointly by Sam Snead of the United States, George Knudsen of Canada and Hideyo Sugimoto of Japan.</

Easy Time Says Race Winners

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Two drivers who wound up big winners in Dixie Stock stock car racing, Cale Yarborough and Bobby Isaac, say they couldn't have had an easier time of it.

Yarborough drove his red and white Mercury to victory in Sunday's twice-postponed American 500 at North Carolina Motor Speedway and soared past the $100,000 mark in winnings for the third time in the last five years.

Isaac finished a poor seventh in the race but earned enough points to clinch the NASCAR Grand National Driving title, worth a bonus of $100,000 this year. His purse winnings already total $121,210, making it the best season ever for the 34-year-old veteran Dodge pilot.

There is one more race, a 100-mile, at Hampton, Va., Saturday on the NASCAR schedule. Isaac, with his title safely tucked away, says he's going to run it "and blow everybody off the track."

Yarborough took $20,445 from the American 500 payoff and ran his 1970 take to $117,200. His best previous season was $127,984 in 1967.

Sunday's victory was his third of the season.

Bobby Allison drove a Dodge to third place, picked up $6,195 and made his season's total $130,430 but he failed in the one thing he wanted most — the driving title that Isaac won. Allison, older of two driving brothers from Hueytown, Ala., had gone into Sunday's race trailing Isaac by 85 points in the championship competition. He needed to finish 29 places better than Isaac and he made a run for it.

But Isaac, obviously driving to finish and not contesting any of the leaders, would have none of it. Allison was only three laps behind Yarborough at the end, Isaac was 14 circuits in the rear.

Attitude of Fighters Is Nonchalant

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Nonchalance was the word from the fighters and the attitude of their camps today concerning the Joe Frazier-Bob Foster heavyweight championship fight Wednesday night.

Foster, who will be trying to become the first light heavyweight king ever to win the heavyweight title, took his first day off in six weeks Sunday and then joined in a bull session with newsmen at fight press headquarters Sunday night.

Frazier went to hear some gospel singing and then went back to his quarters to listen to some rock music and let his manager, Yank Durham, do the talking—as usual.

"I'm not worried about this," Foster said of the scheduled 15-round bout at Cobo Hall. "It's just another fight."

It's a fight which would make him the heavyweight champion and put him in line for a possible fight with Muhammad Ali—a fight that could be the money match of all time.

No sooner had Foster departed press headquarters than Durham arrived.

Durham said Frazier, like Foster, would conclude the sparring part of his training today.

The fight is set for 10:30 p.m., EST, following a 10-round heavyweight match between unbeaten George Foreman and once-beaten Boone Kirkman in New York's Madison Square Garden.

NFL Grand Jury Probe Underway

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation involving most—if not all—the teams of the National Football League opens today in Cleveland.

The U.S. Department of Justice has maintained absolute silence on the investigation, and NFL officials say they are completely in the dark on the purpose of the probe.

One guess is that the Justice Department lawyers want to quiz officials of the 20 or more NFL clubs from coast to coast about possible anti-trust violations.

Former Cleveland Browns lineman John Wooten, who presently is executive vice president of the Black Economic Union, says he thinks possible antitrust violations in the NFL merger with the American Football Conference will be considered.

Wooten said he was questioned a year ago by an agent from the Justice Department.

"They were interviewing players all over the country," Wooten said. Questions concerned player conditions, possible violations of players' constitu-

Bucks Drop Second of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Milwaukee Bucks' next loss will be their second of the National Basketball Association season. The only question is: when will it be?

They dropped their second game of the season to Detroit and now have put together nine straight victories behind the combined talents of Lew Alcindor and Oscar Robertson.

The Big A and the Big O scored 27 points each Sunday night as the Bucks romped to a 105-90 triumph over the Baltimore Bullets. By doing so, Coach Larry Costello's team increased its club record for consecutive victories and solidified their hold on first place in the Midwest Division.

In the only other NBA game Sunday night, Clem Haskins scored 28 points to lead the Phoenix Suns to a 108-104 triumph over the Detroit Pistons.

The Denver Rockets downed the Utah Stars 110-107 and the New York Nets routed the Texas Chaparrals 144-129 in the American Basketball Association's only Sunday night games.

A key factor in Milwaukee's victory was the defensive job done on the Bullets' sharpshooter, Earl Monroe, who was limited to two field goals and seven points. Jack Marin topped Baltimore with 20 points.

The Bullets jumped to a 33-24 first quarter lead but the Bucks reeled off 18 straight point to go ahead for good.

Field goals by Connie Hawkins and Haskins pushed Phoenix over the Pistons, runnerup to Milwaukee in its division. Hawkins finished with 24 points. Dave Bing's 24 points and Bob Lanier's 22 paced Detroit which had led much of the fourth period.

Denver's Larry Cannon scored 26 of his 29 points in the second half against Utah to help make the coaching debut of Stan Albeck a success. Byron Beck's field goal and free throw in the last minute clinched it. Donnie Freeman scored 25 points for the Stars, the Western Division leader which dropped only its second game against 12 victories this season.

A strong first-half effort by Ed Johnson, 6-foot-10 center, carried the Nets past the Chaps, who lost their fifth in a row. Johnson poured in 24 of his 26 points as New York moved into a 74-68 halftime lead. Sonny Dove totaled 21 points and Levern Tart for the Nets while Ron Boone hit 30 and Glen Combs 28 for Texas.

In Saturday night NBA games, Baltimore topped Boston 122-101; New York downed Philadelphia 126-94; Chicago upended Atlanta 120-116; San Diego beat Detroit 112-101; Milwaukee belted Buffalo 116-107 and Portland downed Cleveland 126-116.

In the ABA Saturday night, it was Utah 106, Pittsburgh 102; Virginia 119, Floridians 97; Kentucky 149, Texas 132; and Indiana 128, Carolina 119.

lional rights and racial aspects. Bill Guthrie, sports editor of the New Haven Journal Courier and president of the Professional Football Writers Association, said possible anti-trust violations were to be investigated. He quoted a reliable source as saying three-fourths of the defensive backfield of the Browns' 1965 title team was to be in Cleveland for the investigation.

Guthrie identified the witnesses as Bernie Parrish, Ross Fichtner and Walter Beach. Beach, currently a student at Yale Law School, says he filed a complaint with the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission two years ago against the Browns.

Beach was waived prior to the 1967 season and was not given a tryout by any other team.

One of the matters to be discussed, Guthrie said he learned, is the question of reimbursement for a player who plays out his contract option and is signed by another team.

Cleveland Browns head coach Blanton Collier was called to testify today, and Browns' owner Art Modell and some other club officials were asked to appear Tuesday.

The only other club confirming that its officials had been subpoenaed for this week was the St. Louis Cardinals, whose officials were called for Wednesday.

Several other clubs — including the Minnesota Vikings, Pittsburgh Steelers, Boston Patriots and Philadelphia Eagles — had subpoenas for Dec. 7.

Others getting subpoenas included the Cincinnati Bengals, Kansas City Chiefs, Green Bay Packers, Washington Redskins, Dallas Cowboys, Detroit Lions, San Francisco 49ers, San Diego Chargers, Oakland Raiders, Los Angeles Rams, Buffalo Bills, Chicago Bears, New York Giants and New York Jets.

A Detroit Lions spokesman said only "documents" have been subpoenaed.

Arlington Is Victim of Arkansas S.

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Undeclared Arkansas State University wrapped up the Southland Conference football championship Saturday night with a 27-7 victory over the University of Texas-Arlington.

Arkansas State, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press college division poll, eased to a 17-0 halftime lead when Dennis Meyer intercepted a pass late in the second quarter and ran 32 yards for the touchdown.

Calvin Harrell opened for the victors with a 12-yard run. Bobby Gentry kicked a 30-yard field goal and added a 31-yarder in the third period.

Sid Simms plunged over from the one in the third quarter for UTA's only touchdown.

The Indians wrapped it up in the fourth quarter on a six-yard touchdown run by Johnny Carr.

The Tribe was held scoreless in the first period. Fumbles, interceptions and a 20-mile-an-hour head wind played a major part in keeping the Indians off the scoreboard.

Arlington finally managed to move the ball in the third quarter against Arkansas State's second unit. The third-quarter drive ended with Simms touchdown.

The victory over Arlington was expected to make Arkansas State a prime contender for the host spot in the Pecan Bowl here Dec. 12.

The loss dropped UTA's season record to a woeful 0-8 and pushed the Indians' record to 9-0.

ASU will host Southern Illinois University in a 1:30 p.m. contest Saturday at Jonesboro. Only SIU stands in the way of Arkansas State's first undefeated, untied season in history.

Top Bid Is Winner of Steeplechase

CAMDEN, S.C. (AP) — The inaugural running of the $100,000 Colonial Cup is history, but the future of America's richest steeplechase may already be in jeopardy.

Even before Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Top Bid beat 21 other jumpers from seven nations Saturday, coordinator Ray Woolfe was wondering about next year.

"I think we can get sponsors again," Woolfe said, "if there's hope of perpetuating the race through other means—like a sweepstakes."

"There's no law against gambling in South Carolina," Woolfe said, "but there is against a lottery—and that covers sweepstakes."

"Still, I think it would be easier to change the law with a constitutional amendment...." Among the foreign entries in the race were Herring Gull, a past winner of the Irish Grand National, and American Ray-

The $63,000 first prize raised Top Bid's 1970 earnings to $128,345.

New Syrian Ruler Has Tightened Up

By FAROUK NASSAR
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) —

Syria's new ruler, Gen. Hafez Assad, tightened the army's grip on his nation's politics today and tried to form a new government as some of his supporters clashed with supporters of the ousted regime.

Weekend demonstrations were reported in Damascus, the Syrian capital, after Assad, the defense minister, overthrew President Nureddin Atassi and a government dominated by Gen. Salah Jadid on Friday. All are members of the Baath Socialist party, but Assad is considered more of a moderate.

University students clashed in the streets of Damascus. An unconfirmed report said one man was killed and 35 were injured when Assad's security guards charged into the crowds, hitting with batons.

There were signs that Assad would curb the Al Saika guerrilla movement and that there would be nothing in the future like the disastrous tank invasion of Jordan by the Syrians to support the Palestine guerrillas when they were battling the Jordanian army recently.

Unconfirmed reports said Assad had released several politicians arrested during the coup, but that Jadid and Atassi were still held. But Assad was reported negotiating with Atassi, trying to persuade him to head a new government which Assad would run.

In Egypt, Premier Mahmoud Fawzi resigned, and President Anwar Sadat asked him to form a new cabinet. Minister of Information Mohamed Fayek said Fawzi, 70, and the other ministers will remain in office until the new cabinet is formed.

The cabinet had been appointed after the death of President Gamal Abdel Nasser Sept. 28. Sadat, Nasser's successor, appointed Fawzi premier Oct. 20. The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Shahr said Fawzi wanted to shake up the makeshift cabinet immediately, but he was agreed to wait for a transitional period.

Official sources said the new government will be formed by next Thursday, when the National Assembly reconvenes.

Calley Jury Completion Expected

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) —

A jury to try Lt. William L. Calley Jr., charged in the alleged My Lai massacre, was expected to be completed today, clearing the way for the trial to begin Tuesday.

The court-martial of the Miami, Fla., lieutenant, charged with the premeditated murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians, was to have begun today, but was delayed when only four of 16 officers questioned last week were accepted by attorneys.

Under military law, a minimum of five officers, none below Calley's rank, must serve on the court-martial board. A two-thirds vote is necessary to convict.

The military judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, called a rare Saturday court session in an effort to complete the jury. But the disqualification of 12 officers during 2½ days of questioning brought on the delay in the beginning of the trial.

The four jurors thus far selected are:

—Col. Lamar A. Welch, 56, of West Palm Beach, Fla., a combat veteran of World War II and a military adviser in Vietnam.

—Col. Clifford H. Ford, 53, of Knoxville, Tenn., World War II and Korean veteran.

—Lt. Col. Robert A. Duvall, 38, a native of Lockwood, Mo., a Vietnam veteran.

—Capt. Ronald J. Salem of Sioux Falls, S.D., a Vietnam combat veteran and adviser.

If convicted, Calley, 27, could face death by hanging or life imprisonment if the jury so decrees.

Listed as possible witnesses are 79 persons.

The Army prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, has said the trial may last a month.

Congressional Session Short on Time But Is Long on Problems

Green Beret Manpower to Be Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The elite Army counter-guerrilla unit known as the Green Berets will lose a third of its manpower to Defense budget cuts next year, say Army officials.

Pentagon officials say they expect the 9,000-man Special Forces unit to be trimmed to 6,000 or possibly less in 1971.

These officers say the cut is in proportion to over-all force reductions in the military. Present Defense Department planning calls for the Army to be slashed to 13 and two-thirds divisions by June from the Vietnam war peak of 19 and two-thirds in 1968.

And, although it hasn't officially been announced, most of the 2,800 Green Berets in Vietnam are expected to be withdrawn by Christmas.

The moves coincide with a shift in the role of Special Forces from counter-insurgency warfare.

"We're getting away from the blood and guts side," an Army spokesman said.

The Green Berets were a pet project of President John F. Kennedy, who first sent them into Vietnam in 1961 to recruit, train and advise mountain tribesmen and other natives in fighting the Viet Cong. But in recent years, less was heard about the Green Berets as the nature of the war changed.

"With the buildup of U.S. forces in 1965 and 1966, the attention shifted to the big action and the big units—the battalions and the divisions," said the Army spokesman.

But intraservice rivalry also had a hand in the de-emphasis of the Green Berets.

Ever since the first Special Forces unit was formed at Ft. Bragg, N.C., in 1952, some officers resented the idea of an elite outfit and questioned the concept of counter-insurgency warfare.

In an interview, the former commander of the Green Berets in Vietnam, Col. Robert Reault, spoke of frequent disagreement and friction between his men and the high command in Saigon.

Reault, now in Boston writing a book on the history of Special Forces, retired from the Army last year after he and seven other Green Berets were charged with murdering an alleged Vietnamese double agent.

Pentagon Plans More Money for Guards and Reserves in Budget

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Despite severe defense spending cuts, top Pentagon officials are reported moving toward a 10 to 15 per cent boost in funds to strengthen and modernize the National Guard and reserve under next year's budget.

An increase of that magnitude could total a quarter of a billion dollars or more, if based on this year's $2.4 billion spending level for the guard and reserve forces.

The administration's plan to field a relatively small and compact all-volunteer force by mid-1973 is based in large part on a combat-usable ready reserve, which includes the National Guard.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told a citizens group last week that, "in the future, we will give priority to calling the reserves and the National Guard when men are needed" in a crisis.

For this reason, the Pentagon is inclined to be relatively liberal in spending on the guard and reserve while cutting deeply in many other areas.

Congress is reconvening today for its first post-election session in 19 years, short on time but long on politics and problems.

From this morning's Senate Democratic caucus on an effort to override President Nixon's veto of a bill limiting broadcast campaign spending to the administration's welfare reform measure, the calendars are crowded with controversial business.

With members aiming for adjournment by Christmas, there is little time for the 91st Congress to put its affairs in order before giving way to the 92nd Congress.

And while Republicans managed a two-seat election gain in their Senate minority, Democrats will enjoy a bonus seat for the duration of the lame-duck session.

When Sen.-elect Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois is certified the election winner, probably by the end of the week, he will succeed Republican Ralph T.

Thinks U.S. War Role to Be Over Soon

By SUSAN EVERLY
Associated Press Writer
WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) —

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam predicted today that the United States' role in his country would be over "very soon."

Ky spoke briefly with newsmen at the beginning of a one-day visit to the U.S. Military Academy here.

"I am personally very happy with the Vietnamization" program of President Nixon, he said in response to newsmen's questions.

Ky said the United States' involvement in his country is "not quite over," but he added: "Your role will be over very soon." He did not elaborate.

Ky explained that all his country wanted was to have the United States "help us" with the war until the South Vietnamese could "take over by ourselves." Ky promised that he would answer more questions after meeting with Nixon during his 17-day visit to the United States.

No Evidence of Problem in Crash

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
Associated Press Writer
HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) —

Federal investigators have found "no evidence of any particular problem" with a jetliner in which all 75 persons aboard, including most of the Marshall University football team, died in a fiery weekend crash.

This was reported Sunday by John D. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board. He said there was no evidence so far of mechanical failure in the chartered Southern Airways twin-jet DC9 and no initial indication of pilot error.

Reed pledged to find the cause of the accident, the worst in American sports history. His investigation continues today and could last several months.

Returning the Marshall team, coaches and followers from an afternoon game with East Carolina University at Greenville, N.C., the plane cut a swath through treetops before crashing into a hillside short of the Tri-State Airport runway Saturday night.

Besides 37 Marshall football players and 8 members of the coaching staff, the dead included several prominent Huntington citizens—three physicians, a newly elected state legislator, a past president of the Marshall alumni association and the university's dean of admissions.

Eight married couples, parents of 24 children, were killed. Coaches and some married players killed in the crash left 35 more children.

Today and Tuesday were declared days of mourning on the Marshall campus and throughout the city. Public offices and schools were closed.

A special FBI disaster team began today the task of identifying the charred remains of the 75 victims, brought to a temporary morgue established in an airport hangar.

"This town is dead," was the way one nurse described the grim silence that engulfed Huntington and the university campus.

Memorial services were held throughout the weekend. At one service, about 400 students and Huntington citizens—some weeping and on their knees—sang an African hymn, "Someone's singing, Lord, kumbaya ... Someone's hurting, Lord, kumbaya ... Someone's praying, Lord, kumbaya."

About 7,000, including West Virginia Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr., attended a Sunday night memorial service in the Marshall field house.

Calling the football players "beautiful young people," Moore said, "These young people were our lives and we had looked to them for a future."

At a makeshift infirmary set up in another campus building, student friends of the crash victims were treated for shock.

The crash occurred about 7:40 p.m., after the DC9 clipped the tops of trees about 75 feet tall on a ridge some 100 feet higher than the airport runway.

Forecast Is Clear, Warmer for State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The forecasts calls for clear skies and warmer temperatures through Tuesday. However, the National Weather Service says that freezing conditions will return to Northern Arkansas tonight.

Sunday night freezing conditions were reported throughout almost the entire state as the result of a cold weather front.

Before the skies cleared Sunday afternoon light snow was reported in Northern Arkansas.

The highs Sunday ranged from 36 at Harrison to 43 at Texarkana and El Dorado.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 19; Harrison, 20; Jonesboro, 23; Pine Bluff, 24; Texarkana, 25; El Dorado, 26; Memphis and Little Rock, 24; and Fort Smith, 23.

Burns Fatal to Girl, 5

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Ella Mae Grayson, 5, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lillian Grayson, died Saturday of injuries suffered in a fire which destroyed her parents' home.

Grayson suffered burns, but his wife and their two other children escaped unharmed.

The cause of the blaze is not known. The fire was reported early Saturday morning at the Grayson home in the Gold Creek community near here.

Shot in Arm Expected for GI Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new GI home loan law is expected to give a shot in the arm to the sagging housing industry by restoring loan guarantees to 8.5 million World War II and Korea veterans and opening a new mobile home program.

Although tight money in many areas—particularly the South and West—is expected to reduce the impact of the measure, the Veterans Administration is estimating that, in addition to facilitating home purchases for many former GIs, it will enable 35,000 veterans to buy housing.

The major provision of the bill, signed by President Nixon Oct. 26, removes all expiration dates for GI home loan applications. That, for World War II veterans, was last July 25. The date for Korea veterans varies with the individual.

The bill took immediate effect, except the mobile home provision, which goes into effect Dec. 22.

Another of the many facets of the law permits veterans to use their benefits for the first time to refinance existing mortgages on homes or farms. However, the current high interest rates are expected to put a damper on this.

Purchasers of mobile homes originally had been forecast at 15,000 for the first year, based on the assumption the purchasers would be mostly young veterans using the mobile homes until they could afford a conventional house.

But, now, the law opens up mobile home purchases to World War II Korea and post-Korea veterans who have not used their home loan benefits and thousands of them also will take advantage of the law to buy mobile homes for retirement years.

A veteran who buys a mobile home may use his full GI benefits to buy a regular home as soon as his mobile home is paid for. But this doesn't work in reverse—an ex-GI can't get a mobile home loan even if he's paid up his regular home GI loan.

There's a special package in the new law for the veteran so severely disabled he is entitled to a specially adapted home. The VA has long provided grants for such homes—50 per cent of the cost, up to $12,500. The new law permits the veteran to borrow the remainder of the home cost direct from the VA wherever he lives rather than just in areas where commercial loan money is not available.

Christmas Shopping Hours Set

The Downtown Merchants Association met Tuesday, and decided on the following Christmas shopping hours for the Christmas season.

The member stores will be open until 7:00 p.m. on Friday, December 4th, Friday, December 11th, and Friday, December 18th. Christmas week they will stay open until 7 p.m. December 21st, 22, and 23, closing at the regular time on December 24th.

New officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Haskell Jones, Chairman; Henry Haynes, Vice Chairman; B.N. Holt, Secretary; and Corbin Foster, Treasurer. The next meeting will be Tuesday, January 12, 1971.

American Death Toll Now 44,000

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) —

Enemy mines and booby traps pushed the total of American battlefield deaths in Vietnam past 44,000 during the weekend, while in Cambodia, North Vietnamese forces battered two Cambodian units on the northern front.

The Viet Cong's crude explosive devices took nine American lives over the weekend. Despite the absence of any pitched battles involving American forces, 44 U.S. troops were reported killed last week, the highest toll in five weeks. This raised the total number of Americans reported killed in action in Indochina to 44,003 since Jan. 1, 1961, but the total will undoubtedly be increased by casualty reports which have not yet reached the U.S. Command.

Meanwhile, U.S. troop strength in Vietnam dropped to 363,800 last week, a decrease of 4,200 during the past week and the lowest in almost four years. Another 19,800 troops are to be cut by Dec. 31, bringing the authorized total down to 344,000.

North Vietnamese forces in Cambodia attacked two sweeping detachments of the big Cambodian task force bogged down 50 miles north of Phnom Penh Sunday, killing 13 Cambodian soldiers and wounding 49. It was the worst casualties the Cambodian command has admitted in two months, and only seven North Vietnamese bodies were found on the battlefield.

It was the first serious ground fighting in the area north of Skoun since the 20,000-man government task force recaptured

Court Holds That Trust Is Liable

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court, in a decision it styled as a precedent for other cases, ruled 5-2 today that a trust is liable for contributions paid to attendants at a service station owned by the trust.

The decision upheld the determination of the Board of Review and the Employment Security Division of the state Labor Department.

The verdict reversed Pulaski County Circuit Judge Warren Wood who had disagreed with the ESD and the Board of Review.

The institution in question is Shiloh Trust, which was found-

Officials Fear Storm May Have Killed 300,000

AP News Digest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is convening today for its first post-election session in 19 years. Members are seeking to adjourn by Christmas, leaving relatively little time to handle an agenda laden with controversial measures.

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) —Federal investigators have found "no evidence of any particular problem" with a jetliner that crashed over the weekend killing all 75 persons aboard. The passengers on the chartered flight included most of the Marshall University football team and coaching staff and several influential team boosters from Huntington.

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) —Officials say 300,000 persons may have died in a cyclone and tidal waves that hit East Pakistan Friday, creating one of history's greatest disasters.

SAIGON (AP)—Enemy mines and booby traps have pushed the total of American battlefield deaths in Vietnam past 44,000, with nine Americans killed by crude explosive devices over the weekend. Meanwhile, in Cambodia, North Vietnamese forces batter two Cambodian units on the northern front.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission opens hearings today on a proposed ban on so-called "negative opinion" selling practices. The majority of witnesses listed represent book clubs, record clubs, encyclopedia companies and others that make use of the technique.

SUNBURG, Minn. (AP)—Authorities are holding a man for questioning in the weekend shotgun slayings of a farm couple and their three children. Earlier, the county sheriff, described the crime as a "complete mystery" with no motive apparent.

Minor Damage in Accidents

Two weekend accidents were investigated by Hope City Police.

On West Avenue B vehicles driven by Kenneth Ray Hubbard and Gary Golden collided with minor damage resulting. Officers R. Rowe and Brown charged Golden with failure to give a turn signal and Hubbard for driving with defective brakes.

Downtown autos owned by Lynn Moore and Mrs. Helen Aldridge bumped with very minor damage resulting, according to Officer Edwards.

15 Wrecks in County in October

The Arkansas State Police in its monthly statistical review reported today that 45 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of October. According to State Police figures this is 4 more deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago. This brought the state highway death toll for the first ten months of 1970 to 493 deaths.

Captain Milton Mosier District Commander of the Hope District for the Arkansas State Police said that 3 persons died during the month of October on Arkansas highways in the Hope District. Counties in the District recording deaths were Miller, Nevada and Sevier 1 each. The remaining 6 counties were free of traffic fatalities.

Mosier said Troopers in the 9 county area investigated 97 accidents. Miller county experienced the highest accident rate during October recording 16 accidents, followed by Hempstead and Nevada 15 each, Pike 13, Sevier 12, Clark 10, Howard 8, Little River 5, and Lafayette 3 accidents.

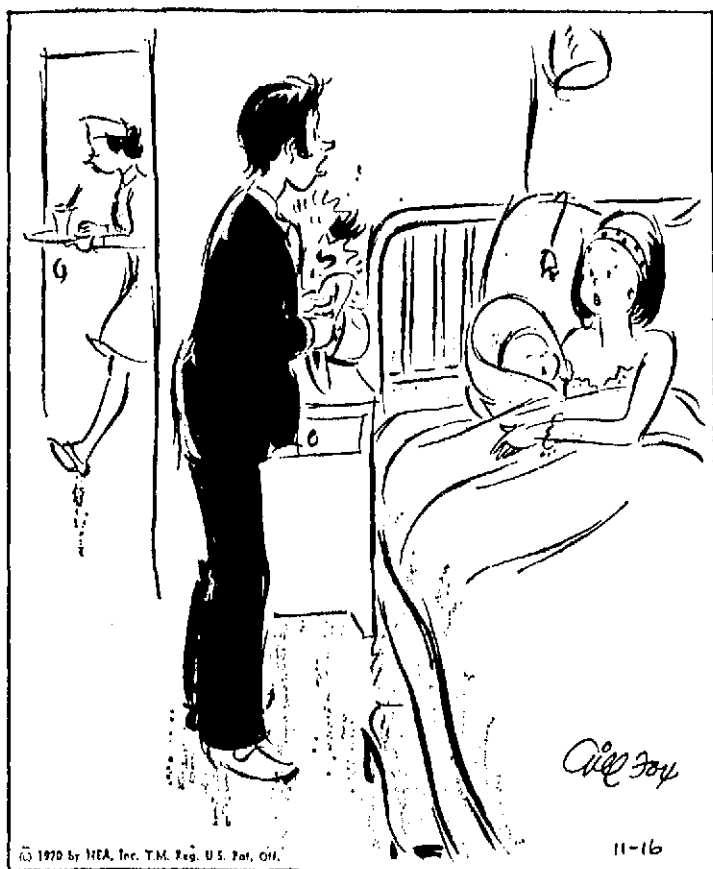

The report indicated that failure to yield the right of way was the leading contributing cause in the accidents followed by drinking, excessive speed, and improper passing.

The 45 traffic deaths during October occurred in 42 collisions. Statewide Troopers investigated 1,112 accidents during the month of October.

Mosier said Troopers in the Hope District would continue their accelerated enforcement program and that road-blocks and Task force program would also be continued to lessen the death rate during the remainder of the year.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Rome was almost completely destroyed during a nine-day conflagration in July, A.D. 64. The World Almanac recalls that Emperor Nero used the incident to initiate Roman persecution of the Christians by accusing them of arson. Nero rebuilt Rome magnificently, but many authorities alleged he had been responsible for the fire.

No Similarity in Crashes Determined

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Despite the grim coincidence of two football teams ripped apart in the fiery wreckage of airliners, federal investigators said today they see little or no similarity between the Wichita State and Marshall University disasters.

"We see none," said John H. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board, who drew a distinct line between the sleek jet chartered by Marshall that bore 75 persons to death here Saturday and the aging, overweight prop plane rented by Wichita State which smashed into the Rockies six weeks ago, killing 31 persons.

Yet one common thread was woven into both crashes: each involved a plane flown into a hillside by a pilot who was not routinely familiar with the terrain.

The twin-engine DC-9 jet from Southern Airways was trying to land in rain and fog Saturday night when it cut a splintered swath through the tops of trees on a high ridge rising near the airport runway and nosedived to the ground.

Although the charter pilot was one of Southern's senior captains, no one could say whether he had ever tried to touch down before at Huntington, a small, one-runway airport that is not on Southern's regular routes. The airport lacked the more sophisticated landing aids of larger fields.

Killed in the crash were 37 members of the Marshall football squad, its coaching staff and athletic director, the plane crew and a group of prominent Huntington citizens flying back with the team from a 17-14 loss to East Carolina.

The tragedy came even as a federal investigation continued into the Oct. 2 crackup of the Wichita State football plane. Officials say the Wichita State pilot flew into a dead-end canyon at the foot of the Continental Divide and was unable to escape.

The Wichita State disaster sparked a full federal inquiry into aircraft charters after investigators found the 20-year-old overweight plane was being flown by pilots from a firm that lacked a sufficient license to operate it.

FAA administrator John Shaffer called the arrangements for that flight, involving separate leasing of plane and hiring of crew, a facade to get around FAA rules governing charter flights.

The FAA sent letters to schools across the country warning them to be careful in their charter arrangements and to deal with reputable operators.

Marshall was dealing with such an operator—Southern, a scheduled airline authorized to conduct charter flights and subject to stringent operating and maintenance requirements.

It was Southern's first flight for Marshall, which had taken buses to its other out-of-town games this season.

Sixteen days before the Marshall plane crash, a twin-engine Army plane trying to land through a low ceiling smashed into an embankment on the opposite side of the Tri-State Airport, killing a major general and two other officers.

The airport is not equipped with radar for landing approaches or with any sophisticated glide slope electronic beams to warn a pilot when he is coming in too low. "Our problem is money," said an airport board member. "We've always wanted something, but we couldn't get the support."

Investigators also said there were no red warning lights on the fatal ridge. But the FAA said the ridge tip was far enough below the normal landing angle that lights were not required.

The DC-9 had flown earlier in the day from New Orleans to Alexandria, La., to Springfield, Mo., to Louisville, Ky., and to Atlanta. At Atlanta, the pilot, Frank H. Abbott, 46, took over the craft for the ferry flight to Greenville, N.C., where the plane picked up the Marshall team.

It was Abbott's first flight of the day. A different plane and crew had taken the team to North Carolina the preceding day—Friday the 13th.

Plane Missing Since 1969 Is Found

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Authorities said Sunday the wreckage of a single-engine airplane found in a swamp near here has been identified as a plane missing since Feb. 8, 1969.

Phillips County Sheriff Marion Hickey said the wreckage contained four decomposed bodies and had been "positively" identified as a plane reported missing almost two years ago on a flight from Jackson, Miss., to Walnut Ridge.

The victims were identified as Bob Futrell, 36, his wife Martly, 34, and Darrell Syalton, 32, and his wife Betty, 29. Futrell, who was identified as the pilot of the craft, operated the Western Auto store in Walnut Ridge and Slayton was a rice farmer near Walnut Ridge.

Officials said the four left Jackson the afternoon of Feb. 7 to return home following a combination business - pleasure trip. Airport officials at Greenwood, Miss., said Futrell made a route check shortly after midnight.
